HASTINGS AND DEHART GAIN FURTHER FAME

Pirrenung, Oct. 28 -- Irresistible attack of Dehart, Hastings and MacLaren of Pittsburg tore gaping holes in Pennsylvania's line here to-day and enabled Glen Warner's football juggernaut to score of 20 to 0. The power of Pitt's bucks hardly can be measured by the score of the game, as the Quakers were continually on the defensive and always making a gallant stand under the shadow of their own goal posts. Only this tenacious fighting spirit of the visitors kept Pitt from registering a more lopsided triumph.

Dehart did most of the pounding. His rushes into and through the Penn forwards shoved the ball by short gains across the field and into the danger sone. Here Penn usually braced with such strength Pitt was temporarily checked, but then it was Hastings who coolly dropped back ten yards and with his line men making an impregnable barrier twice lifted the ball over the crossbar for field goals. His first goal from goal posts if the opening period. His second attempt was converted into a scere in the next period.

Four Planges to Score.

The first touchdown was viciously earned and brought compliments to every member of the fighting Pitt machine. Just before the fighting Pitt machine. Just before the first period ended Penn was forced to kick from its five yard line. Howard Berry, Penn's hero, did his best to get the bail away, but Capt. Peck and Right Guard Sies were on him so quickly the punt was blocked. Berry made a vain attempt to recover, but Herron, Pitt's star right end, dived through the air and dropped on the ball. The period ended at this point.

Refreshed by the minute rest victor and vanquished came together in mighty line struggles. Four times Dehart catapulted into the line, and it was not until the fourth charge that he was able to place the bail on the far side of the final chalk mark.

Penn had made its fight and had lost, but proved to every one of the thou-sands in the stand that in losing Penn sands in the stand that in losing Penn stands out as a team of warriors worthy of every laurel. That stand against the all powerful Pitt combination, although ending in a touchdown and of course success, reflected not against Penn but rather for Pitt. Irresistible attack strove against an almost impregnable defence and the battering counted in the and.

Encouraged by their stand in the third period Penn fought desperately in the fourth, but was unable to keep Pittaburg from registering another touchdown and its subsequent goal. This final count came through a brilliantly executed triple pass, Morrow to Dehart to Hastings, who slid over the line. He followed his slide by kicking goal and making the final score 20 to 0.

Williams Misses Chance.

The glorious opportunity for Williams came early in the second half when the backfelst found itself, and Lewis. O'Brien and McLean ripped through the Columbia line or tore around the Blue and White ends for consistent gains. Starting from the middle of the field the Purple cleven made five first downs in succession and carried the oval right down to the one yard line. It was a hard blow at the prestige of the Yaunted Columbia forward line.

At the critical moment the bruised and battered Columbia line held like a stonewall and with their backs against

Not to be easily daunted Williams returned to the attack with renewed war and began another march down the fleid. Once more Columbia was in imminent danger of defeat and this time fate seemed to be with the fillus and White. With the hall on Columbia's le yard line. Quarterback Lewis tried to smash the fillus and White defence will to be hurled back twice without give. Then he recorded to the open game and tried a forward bass. Capitlealy of Columbia, however, spoiled the attempt. On the next play fortune seemed to smile on Columbia, for Blodsett dropped the ball after a perfect tose from Lewis, who was standing on the Columbia goal line.
